The Republican State Central Com mittee will meet in Cleveland May 4th, to determine the time and place for holding the next State Convention.

"We always feel big on our birth-day. but when we get to be two-score and ten we can't resist the temptation to spread ourselves all over ten pages of space.

Grover is going South this summer On the lower side of the Mason & Dixon line is supposed to be a good place to start booms, either financial or Presidential. Perhaps it might be a good plan for the southern wheel-horses of the G. O. P. to give him a banquet and let Jeff Davis deliver a toast.

The Columbus gang of tally-sheet lorgers reached the climax of its audacity and was foiled in its culmination of a series of intrigues. Prosecutor Huling still holds the fort and the schemers are thoroughly discomfited. But they are an ingenious set of demons, and when they get rattled the public has learned to wait expectantly for a new system of

Such peculiar restrictions are operating to cause a drouth of resreshment and floodof profanity in the approaching beer

The heathen Chinee has been indulg ing in ways that are dark and tricks that are vain again. Three Celestials cheated their way into this forbidden Eden last week on fraudulent return certificates with the name of the Customs Collector forged. But the intruders have gotten inside in safety, and it is too late for the vengeance of a vexed government to overtake them.

The General Assembly bill for the relief of indigent soldiers, sailors, and and minor children, published on our first page last week, had no disgruntled Democratic President to veto its provis ions, and is perhaps a wiser measure than the dependent pension bill of the late Congress. The Soldier's Relief Commission will look after the interests of those unfortunates who stood nobly for their country in trying days and are now dependent upon assistance from their mighty benefactor.

The consumption of distilled spirits has decreased more than one gallon per capita since 1840, although the amount consumed is greatly increased. A recent compilation in the bureau of statistics shows that the strong liquors are gradually going out of use, while milder drinks are now in vogue. The prolonged agitation of the temperance question has had an effect even among drinkers to make them boycott the fiery bug-juice of yore. The same statistics show a big boom in the consumption of tea and coffee and indicate a growing tendency to revolution in the matter of drinka-

The tolerance and patronage which is extended by the public to scheming politicians after they have become bold in their intrigues has no better instance than the recent experience of Columbus. There the leading Democrats of the city were acknowledged as the defenders i not the abettors of the systematic villians who perpetrated the famous 208-508 tallysheet forgeries. And yet after the intense excitement that that notorious ontrage caused, the voters of Columbus placed in power the gangsters who were responsible for the crime. That they will got their just deserts is as certain as that the sun shines, but why they have not reaped their reward sooner is a

when we are in error we like for our readers as well as ourselves to know of it. Through incorrect information we stated a few issues since that the bill to News-Herald Publishing Company. raise the age of consent in girls was slaughtered in the recent session of the General Assembly. Captain D. M. Barrett, our able Representative, has forwarded to us an advance sheet of the Revised Statutes for 1887, which contains the bill, it having become a law on March 8th.

The age of consent was formerly ten years and is now fourteen. Although we regard this as too low a limit, it gives a much better showing for our law-makers than to have refused to pass

We see no reason why the law should give a girl the guardianship of her own charact r and reputation, when to lose them is endless ruin, before she obtains authority to give her hand in marriage. The Legislature has made a good step in the right direction, but Section 6,816 needs amending again.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has none of its members implicated in the extensive Panhandle robberies. This old organization is remarkable for its sagacious management in contrast with the reckless societies of more recent origin. The theft looks like a socialistic desire to share in the profits of the company, and the thieving crews wanted the lion's share, too.

The "spirit of the press" has about arrived at the conclusion that the abolition of the railroad pass is a subterfuge. The privileges of the road can be legitimately accorded to newspapers in exchange for advertising. But in a great many cases there would be a pretty good balance in favor of the scribes, if the railroads paid for their advertisements at regular rates. One editor says he has for long years been doing $7 worth of work for fifty cents and heaves a sigh of relief at the thought of a change. The lovely relations between the railroads and the press have wound up with a hopelessly broken engagement.

Senator Sherman's letter to the young Republicans of Philadelphia is a specimen of sound politics and not of rabid partisan ranting. The tendency to idolize everything that bears the name of "Republican" out of respect to its title, and regardless of the fact that it may aid Democratic methods is an ill that needs guarding against. The class that does most of the "hollering" does least of the working and thinking. Sherman constantly shows his wisdom by keeping a definite practical theory of covernment before the people and he is able to back up every statement by the history of the past and the achievements of the present.

If anybody imagines that our new navy will be able to beat the stuffing out of the combined European monarchies next Christmas, let him not deceive himself longer. The star-eyed goddess of reform don't bestir herself about the affairs of the National Capital at that rate. Out of four vessels ordered to be built by act of Congress four years ago, only one is afloat. The remaining three are dimly in prospect, likewise the remaining twenty-three provided for by the recent bill.
